Meet the Owner, Courtney Aplin

Hi there! My name is Courtney, and I was born and raised in Parker, Colorado. I attended Colorado State University where I studied hospitality management and business. Since graduating, my ultimate goal is to launch my own wedding planning business.

My passion for wedding planning and coordinating grew over time as 1 worked in the hospitality and service industry. From my first job until now, 1 have loved working in the service industry. 1 enjoy meeting and working with people with different backgrounds, needs and interests — it makes my job feel new and fun every day! My friends and family noticed my interest in planning events early on. They could see that I enjoyed planning and decorating for summer BBQ's, birthday parties, and any other events we happen to be celebrating, including my sister's wedding. In time, I decided it was time to get serious about my interest, and that's when I started Every Little Detail.

My love for weddings and events, in particular, flourished when 1 worked at the Colorado Golf Club. At the time, 1 was studying Elementary Education and wasn't convinced it was the right career for me. Then, after working a particularly beautiful wedding, 1 just knew that 1 wanted to build a career around helping brides feel excited, loved and, most notably, stress-free on their special day. So, 1 chose the career path of wedding/event planning and coordination.

In addition to being in love with weddings, I have always had an entrepreneurial spirit and dreamed about starting my own business. Turning my passion for wedding planning and coordination into a career may have started as a dream, but after working at a wedding event center in college, the spark ignited and I decided it was time to make it all happen. This is how Every Little Detail came to be.

I hope I will have the opportunity to help make your event a memorable one by attending to Every Little Detail for you! Join me for a cup of coffee and let's get started discussing your event dreams, wishes, wants and must-haves!

XOXO, Courtney Aplin
